A photograph of three surgeons in blue scrubs and masks, focused on a patient in an operating room. The scene is dimly lit, with the primary light source being the surgical lamps. In the background, a wall-mounted clock and a control panel are visible.

All Technologies, Entirely Your Way

A collage of four images showing various surgical instruments, including forceps, scalpels, and retractors, arranged in a grid pattern. The images are semi-transparent and overlaid on a light blue background with curved lines.
